Grey House Publishing is proud to announce the 2010 edition of Sports Market Place Directory.

Sports Market Place Directory is the classic sports reference work that has served the sports industry for 50 years. This 2,400-page work comprises 10 chapters including professional, college and youth leagues and teams, sports media, events, facilities, sponsors and professional services.

This multibillion-dollar industry continues to grow, despite increased news of unfair practices, scandals and corruption. Professional, college, youth, and recreational sports are here to stay, with player contracts, product endorsements, fan participation, new facilities, athlete sponsorships, and media coverage at all-time highs, not to mention the ever-increasing business of sports-related products and services.

This 2010 edition of Sports Market Place Directory is your key to this dynamic industry. This reference directory tracks 103 sports, from the obvious national pastimes like Auto Sports, Baseball, and Golf to those with a lesser draw, Billiards, Jai Alai, and Tug-of-War. Whether you are a media professional, agent, athletic director, an athlete, job seeker, service provider or fan, users will find a total of 15,567 listings, a must have resource.

Arranged in useful, business-minded chapters, Sports Market Place Directory puts together sections such as Single Sports, College Sports, Events, Agents and Manufacturers. Listings are full of valuable information, including company name, address, phone, fax, web site, e-mail, description, key personnel and detailed corporate data. Our data is reflective of intense editorial research and update efforts via one-on-one phone conversations, Internet, research and industry sources.

Chapter Play-by-Play:

- Single Sports has 2,198 sport-specific organizations, leagues and teams, all current at press time. This chapter includes all major professional coaches and managers, plus an alphabetical index at the beginning of the chapter.
- Multi Sports includes 12 specific categories, from athletic foundations to youth sports organizations, plus an alphabetical index at the beginning of the chapter.
- College Sports: An alphabetical index begins the chapter, which includes 1,676 listings of associations, conferences, degree programs, and division I, II and III schools. Also included is a comprehensive list of coaches, team executives and sports management programs.
- Events, Meetings & Trade Shows includes 3,433 listings. Trade shows are separated from events, which are listed by both sport and date; includes two alphabetical indexes, one for trade shows and one for events.
- Media includes a total of 3,871 listings, preceded by an alphabetical index. This section includes all daily and non-daily newspapers and all radio and television sports programs. Listings include sports editors and reporters, commentators and show hosts.
- Sports Sponsors includes 4,874 (1,555 more than last year) sponsors that support most major sports, including all college bowl games, plus an alphabetical index.
- Professional Services comprises 13 categories, from executive search services to ticket services, for a total of 1,798 listings. This chapter begins with an alphabetical index.
- Facilities contain 1,528 listings, and include seven categories from arenas to facility concession services. You'll find stadiums, race tracks, architects, management services, plus an alphabetical index.
- Manufacturers & Retailers include 2,089 listings, with a separate section for Software Manufacturers. Listings include valuable contact information including key executives, plus products and brands. This chapter begins with a subject index.
- Statistics includes combined tables on Sports Participation, Consumer Purchases, and Attendance.
- Three All-Volume Indexes are conveniently grouped in the back of the book. Entry Index is a straight alphabetical listing. Executive Index is an alphabetical list of all key personnel, including each executive's title and affiliated organization. Geographic Index indexes all listings by country and state.

Sports Market Place Directory is available for subscription on GOLD, Grey House On Line Databases at <http://gold.greyhouse.com>.
