Grey House Publishing Announces the 2025 Edition of The Complete Resource Guide for People with Disabilities

Grey House Publishing is proud to announce the publication of the 2025 Edition of the Complete Resource Guide for People with Disabilities.

This 33rd edition of the award-winning Complete Resource Guide for People with Disabilities is an invaluable resource for all those living with a disability and those committed to empowering them. It offers thousands of ways for people with disabilities to succeed at work, in school, and in their community.

Careful research and compilation of the best data available has earned The Complete Resource Guide for People with Disabilities the honor of being a repeat recipient of the National Mature Media Award and the National Health Information Award, as well as being a go-to resource among educators, librarians, and the disability community.

This comprehensive resource opens with the following valuable front matter:

- An in-depth report on the impact of prenatal interventions, such as gene editing, on people with disabilities
- A detailed release from the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) on labor force characteristics involving persons with a disability, using 2023 data
- User Guide and Key
- Glossary of Disability-Related Terms

Coverage continues with subject-specific listing sections (i.e. Arts, Assistive Devices, Camps, Vocational Programs), Rehabilitation Facilities, and disability-specific sections (i.e. Aging, Cognitive, Mobility, Speech). Each disability section includes a range of resources from Associations to Support Groups. The comprehensive Table of Contents guides you through the 33 chapters and more than 100 subchapters contained in this rich resource.

Sure to save hours of Internet research time, The Complete Resource Guide for People with Disabilities provides comprehensive, critical and immediate information in one source that can be accessed quickly and easily. This edition provides 9,013 descriptive listings, 22,836 key contacts, 6,940 fax numbers, 5,632 email addresses, and 8,027 web sites.

Following the listing chapters is a 2024 Annual Disability Statistics Compendium: a robust section of easy-to-read tables featuring the latest available data. The first part of the compendium features numbers of disabled individuals by both state and disability—hearing, vision, cognitive, ambulatory, and self-care and independent-living disabilities—and the second part features individuals who are employed, broken down by the categories listed above.

This new 2025 edition also includes three indexes to provide quick and easy access to the listings contained in the Resource Guide:

- Subject Index: Organizes directory listings by relevant alphabetical topics, i.e. autism, language disorders
- Geographic Index: Organizes listings alphabetically by state
- Entry & Publisher Index: Lists all directory listings alphabetically

Appropriate for both the professional and the lay-person, this title is an important addition to the collections of libraries large and small, public and academic, as well as resource libraries for employees across the range of disabilities-related professions.
