Grey House Publishing Announces the 2026/27 Edition of Profiles of New York State

Grey House Publishing is proud to announce the publication of the 2026/27 edition of Profiles of New York State. This new edition includes all the valuable, in-depth and up-to-date information that these Profiles of works are known for, and is fully illustrated with images to support the text and statistics. From high school students to relocation professionals, this easy-to-use, accessible resource will appeal to a variety of readers.

This 2026/27 edition of Profiles of New York State includes more data, more photos, and a thoughtful arrangement that makes the content accessible and easy-to-use. Helpful features include thumb tabs to help keep you oriented in each of 11 chapters, chapter leader pages that include a specific Introduction, Table of Contents and, in many cases, a unique User Guide, paving the way for the researcher to take full advantage of every last piece of data presented. Profiles of New York State includes hundreds of statistical data points, tables and charts that provide solid, fact-based research, and dozens of maps and photos. Here is an overview of each section:

About New York State: Facts & Photos, this 4-color section gives the researcher a real sense of the state and its history. It includes New York State history and geography, plus a photo gallery that includes not only sights unique to the state, but also the state flag, seal, motto, bird, flower, and more. This chapter also includes a timeline of political and newsworthy events from New York State's founding to the present day.

Government: A State Guide is an important and detailed look at the history and structure of New York State's government, including discussion of the state's legislative, judicial, and executive branches and various types of local government. The chapter ends with a map of New York State's 26 U.S. Congressional Districts.

Profiles is arranged alphabetically by county, then by place-for a total of 2,609 places and 62 counties. These detailed place profiles compile dozens of data points based on the U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey and other current government sources such as the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the U.S. Department of Education, and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. These unique place profiles pull together statistical and descriptive information on every Census-recognized place in New York State plus 383 unincorporated communities.

The Geography section explores New York State's physical features, natural resources, federal land, and Indian reservations, including a satellite view of the state. In addition to providing a visual sense of the state, this data contributes to a better understanding of settlement patterns, economic development, and state resources that are vital for the state's continued growth.

Energy gives a detailed look at New York State's energy needs, uses and available resources—including petroleum, natural gas, coal, electricity and renewable energy.

The Comparative Statistics section includes tables that compare New York State's 100 largest incorporated communities by dozens of data points. The Top and Bottom Rankings section includes tables that rank the top 150 and bottom 150 incorporated communities with populations over 2,500, in dozens of categories.

Education begins with an Educational State Profile that summarizes number of schools, students, diplomas granted and educational dollars spent. Also included are School District Rankings for 16 topics from Teacher/Student Ratios to High School Drop-Out Rates. Following these rankings are statewide assessment results from the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) and the New York State Education Department.

Climate starts with a summary of New York State's climate, which is followed by three colorful climate maps and profiles of both National and Cooperative Weather Stations. In addition, there are Weather Station Rankings with hundreds of interesting details, such the highest annual snowfall—reported at 197.5 inches at Boonville 2 SSW.

Demographic Maps are 11 colorful, full-page maps help to anchor the researcher to the state's diverse population, illustrating population, race and ethnic makeup (white, black, Asian, Hispanic), age, home values, household income, high school graduates, college graduates, and presidential election results.
