COMPILATION

In order to be useful to subscribers, the information contained in Books In Print[®] must be complete and accurate. Publishers are asked to review and correct their entries prior to each publication, providing current price, publication date, availability status and ordering information, as well as recently published and forthcoming titles. Tens of thousands of entries are added or updated for each edition.

DATA ACQUISITION

Bowker aggregates bibliographic information via ONIX, Excel and Text data feeds from publishers, national libraries, distributors and wholesalers. Publishers may also add to or update their listings using one of Bowker's online portals: MyIdentifiers for US publishers at <http://www.myidentifiers.com> and BowkerLink for international publishers at <http://www.bowkerlink.com>.

Larger publishing houses can submit their bibliographic information to the Books In Print database from their own databases. Bowker's system accepts publisher data 24 hours a day, 7 days a week via FTP.

To communicate new title information to Books In Print, the quality of the publishers' textual data must be up to—or extremely close to—reference book standards. Publishers interested in setting up a data feed are invited to access the Bowker Title Submission Guide at <http://www.bowker.com> or contact us at Data.Submission@bowker.com, to which you can also send updated information or corrections to the listings.

To ensure the accuracy, timeliness, and comprehensiveness of data in Books In Print[®], Bowker has initiated discussions with the major publishers. This outreach entails analyzing the quality of all of a publisher's submissions to Books In Print[®], and working closely with the publisher to improve the content and timeliness of the information. This outreach also lays the groundwork for incorporating new valuable information into Books In Print[®]. We are now collecting cover art, descriptive jacket and paragraph copy, tables of contents, contributor biographies, as well as awards won, bestseller listings, and review citations. Bowker makes this important additional information available to customers who receive Books In Print[®] in specific electronic formats and through subscriptions to <http://www.booksinprint.com>

ISBN AGENCY

Each title included in Books In Print[®] has been assigned an International Standard Book Number (ISBN) by the publisher. All ISBNs listed in this directory have been validated by using the check digit control, ensuring accuracy. ISBNs allow order transmission and bibliographic information updating using publishing industry supported EDI formats (e.g., ONIX). Publishers not currently participating in the ISBN system may request the assignment of an ISBN Publisher Prefix from the ISBN Agency by calling 877-310-7333, faxing 908-795-3518, or through the ISBN Agency's web site at <http://www.myidentifiers.com>. To obtain an application or further information on the SAN system, please email the SAN Agency at SAN@bowker.com, or visit www.myidentifiers.com
