

Among children living in poverty, 9.3 percent did not have health insurance at any time in 2020, representing an increase of 1.6 percentage points since 2018. For children in families at or above 400 percent of poverty, the uninsured rate decreased by 0.4 percentage points, to 2.2 percent. In 2020, 7.0 percent of children between 100 and 399 percent of poverty did not have health insurance, which is not statistically different from 2018. In both years, the percentage of children without health insurance coverage decreased as the income-to-poverty ratio increased.

The percentage of non-Hispanic White children without health insurance coverage was not statistically different in 2020 compared with 2018. However, the uninsured rate decreased for Asian children (by 1.4 percentage points) and increased for Black children (by 1.4 percentage points), to 2.8 percent and 6.0 percent, respectively. In 2020, 9.5 percent of Hispanic children were uninsured, which is not statistically different from 2018.

In 2020, 5.2 percent of children born in the United States were uninsured. However, among foreign-born children, 17.8 percent were uninsured, including 7.6 percent of children who were naturalized citizens and 20.9 percent of children who were not citizens.²²

Health insurance rates for children varied by region as well.²³ For example, 7.7 percent of children living in the South were uninsured, while the uninsured rates for children in the Northeast (3.3 percent), Midwest (4.4 percent), and West (4.9 percent) were lower.²⁴

Health insurance rates varied for children who lived in expansion states compared to those who lived in nonexpansion states (4.0 percent and 8.5 percent, respectively).

Health insurance outcomes for working-age adults aged 19 to 64 may differ from those in other age groups because they do not qualify for certain programs, such as CHIP, and only qualify for Medicare under limited circumstances. In 2020, 11.9 percent of working-age adults (aged 19 to 64) did not have health insurance coverage, which was not statistically different from 2018 (Figure 7).

The uninsured rate for noncitizen adults aged 19 to 64 increased 2.2 percentage points between 2018 and 2020. In 2020, 33.8 percent of working-age noncitizens did not have health insurance, which is higher than foreign-born adults (22.9 percent), naturalized citizen adults (10.7 percent), and native-born adults (9.6 percent).

The uninsured rate decreased by 1.1 percentage points for working-age adults who worked full-time, year-round, from 9.5 percent in 2018 to 8.4 percent in 2020. However, the uninsured rate increased by 1.8 percentage points for working-age adults who worked less than full-time, year-round to 16.4 percent.

Among working-age adults in 2020, those who were separated (20.2 percent), never married (16.0 percent), divorced (13.2 percent), or widowed (12.1 percent) were more likely to be uninsured than those who were married (8.5 percent).²⁵

Health insurance rates for working-age adults also varied by region. For example, 11.3 percent of adults living in the West in 2020 were uninsured, a 0.8 percentage-point increase from 2018. There was no significant change in uninsured rates for working-age adults in other regions.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ABOUT HEALTH INSURANCE COVERAGE

State and Local Estimates of Health Insurance Coverage

Since the CPS ASEC produces thorough and timely estimates of income, poverty, and health insurance, the Census Bureau recommends that people use it as the data source for national estimates. However, the Census Bureau also publishes annual estimates of health insurance coverage by state and other smaller geographic units based on data collected in the American Community Survey (ACS). Single-year estimates are available for geographic units with populations of 65,000 or more. Five-year estimates are available for all geographic units, including census tracts and block groups.

Due to the impact of the pandemic on data collection, the standard 1-year estimates from the 2020 ACS will not be released. However, the Census Bureau plans to release experimental estimates developed from the 2020 ACS 1-year data later this year in the form of a limited number of data tables for limited geographies.

²² In 2020, the uninsured rate of native-born children under the age of 19 was not statistically different from the uninsured rate of naturalized citizen children.

²⁴ In 2020, the uninsured rate of children living in the West was not statistically different from the uninsured rate of children living in the Midwest.

²⁵ In 2020, the uninsured rate of divorced adults aged 19 to 64 was not statistically different from the uninsured rate of widowed adults aged 19 to 64.

Figure 6. Percentages of adults aged 18–64 who were uninsured or had public or private coverage at the time of interview, by state Medicaid expansion status: United States, 2020

NOTES: Persons were defined as uninsured if they did not have any private health insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), state-sponsored or other government plan, or military plan. Persons were also defined as uninsured if they had only Indian Health Service coverage or had only a private plan that paid for one type of service, such as accidents or dental care. Public coverage includes Medicaid, CHIP, state-sponsored or other government-sponsored health plan, Medicare, and military plans. Private coverage includes any comprehensive private insurance plan (including health maintenance and preferred provider organizations). These plans include those obtained through an employer, purchased directly, purchased through local or community programs, or purchased through the Health Insurance Marketplace or a state-based exchange. Private coverage excludes plans that pay for only one type of service, such as accidents or dental care. A small number of persons were covered by both public and private plans and were included in both categories. Data are based on household interviews of a sample of the civilian noninstitutionalized population. SOURCE: National Center for Health Statistics, National Health Interview Survey, 2020.

- In 2020, among adults aged 18–64, those living in non-Medicaid expansion states (20.8%) were more than twice as likely as those living in Medicaid expansion states (10.2%) to be uninsured (Figure 6).
- Adults aged 18–64 who live in non-Medicaid expansion states (16.7%) were less likely than those living in Medicaid expansion states (22.5%) to have public coverage.
- Adults aged 18–64 who live in non-Medicaid expansion states (64.3%) were less likely than those living in Medicaid expansion states (69.2%) to have private coverage.
