REVIEWS

The Complete Learning Disabilities Directory

Winner of a National Health Information Bronze Award in Patient Education Information
Sponsored by Consumer Health Publishers Association SM

"Description
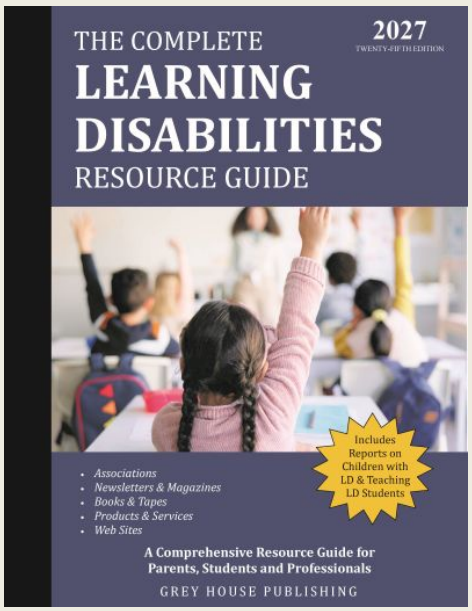
This book is an invaluable reference for educators, caregivers, and professionals working with individuals with learning disabilities. Its well-organized structure, which covers specific topics like preschools, literacy, state-level resources, websites, and media, ensures readers can easily access relevant information. Building on the strengths of the previous edition published in 2022 by Grey House Publishing, this updated edition provides enhanced and practical tools to better support those navigating the complexities of learning disabilities.

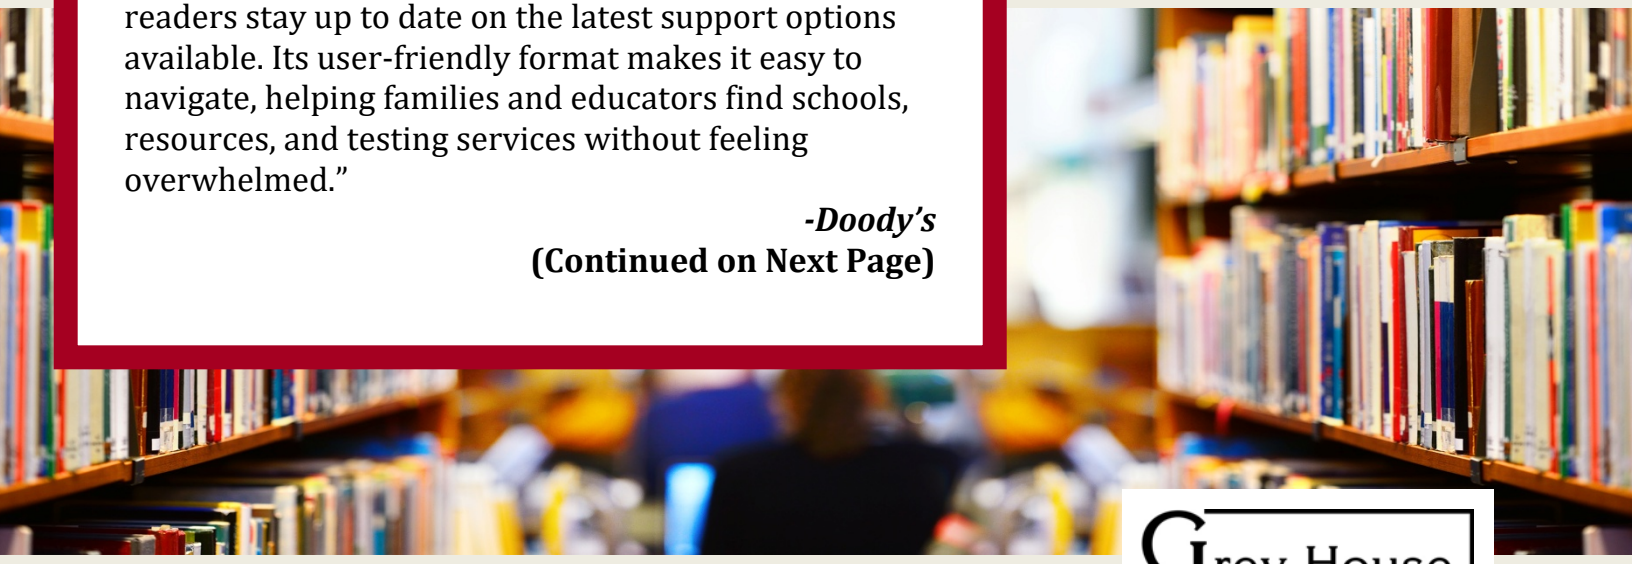
Purpose
The book serves as an essential tool for supporting preschool through college students with learning disabilities. It provides valuable insights into the signs, causes, diagnoses, and treatments of various learning disabilities, making it an indispensable resource for families and educators. With new resources added each year, the guide ensures that readers stay up to date on the latest support options available. Its user-friendly format makes it easy to navigate, helping families and educators find schools, resources, and testing services without feeling overwhelmed."

-Doody's

(Continued on Next Page)



Pub. Date: July 2026
ISBN: 979-8-89179-527-3
Price: $165.00



4919 Route 22, PO Box 56 Amenia, NY 12501
(800) 562-2139 FAX (518) 789-0556
www.greyhouse.com books@greyhouse.com

Grey House Publishing

REVIEWS

Audience
The book's audience is educators, families, and support staff who would are looking for resources for learning disabilities. The resource targets signs, testing resources, and reports for learning disabilities. It also covers schools and colleges who house programs for persons with learning disabilities.
The authors are experts due to the resource being the twenty-fourth edition.

The resource definitely meets the needs of the intended audience.

Features
The book covers resources such as guides for parents, students, and professionals. The book consists of twenty sections, sharing topics such as classroom resources, conferences and workshops, literacy and learning skills, and testing resources. It is very well written for parents and students to understand the content. The book is also highly organized, including a general index for each of the fifty states as well as resources regarding vocational and transitional skills for each state. One of the best content areas of this book is the family resources for all fifty states.

Assessment
This is very important resource for schools, academics, and families. There are really no comparable resource guides. This is the twenty-fourth edition, and it will have to continue to be updated yearly, due to the changes made in the Department of Education regarding IEPs. I highly recommend this resource guide to families, schools, and academic institutions.

Weighted Numerical Score: 100 - 5 Stars! " -Doody's

Grey House Publishing

4919 Route 22, PO Box 56 Amenia, NY 12501
(800) 562-2139 FAX (518) 789-0556
www.greyhouse.com books@greyhouse.com

REVIEWS

"The 20th edition of The Complete Learning Disabilities Directory begins with an introduction, a handy glossary, a user's guide, and a user's key. These are followed by 21 sections, such as Associations & Organizations, Government Agencies, Learning Centers, and Testing Resources. The book concludes with three indexes: "Geographic Index," "Entry & Publisher Name Index," and "Subject Index." The indexes refer to the entry numbers used throughout the book. There are guide words at the tops of pages, and each section is clearly subdivided to facilitate use. For example, in the section on ADHD, material is grouped by national programs, publications/videos, and websites. Within these groups, lists are alphabetic. The information provided for each entry varies, but all have basic contact information, the name of the director or key executive, and a brief description. This reliable and timely reference will save caregivers and professional's valuable time. It is recommended for public libraries and academic libraries serving schools of education…"

-ARBA

"By virtue of its size, comprehensiveness, and frequency of updates, this directory stands out as a singularly important resource for academic and public libraries. It is highly recommended."

-ARBA

Grey House Publishing

4919 Route 22, PO Box 56 Amenia, NY 12501
(800) 562-2139 FAX (518) 789-0556

REVIEWS

"This is by far the best of all the resources available for learning disabled individuals. No need to search the internet to find this information; this book provides it all at your fingertips. 5 Stars!"

-Doody's Review Service

"No similar resource is as comprehensive as this directory. Parents and teachers will find the chapters on teaching materials, assistive devices, and other print and online resources particularly valuable. This work is an obvious choice for any parent resource library or professional library serving special education teachers, but its ease of use and the applicable nature of the subject make it suitable for all public libraries."

-Library Journal

"Overall, this title would be a tremendous asset to any professional, parent, or student who seeks to deepen their knowledge about the challenges and rewards of recognizing different learning styles and behaviors which may one day not been seen as a 'disability'."

-Journal of Consumer Health in the Internet

"This…directory covers a wide range of learning disability resources available nationwide. Separate chapters contain entries in teaching materials, assistive devices, technology resources, magazines, newsletters and workshops…Due to its wealth and depth of coverage, parents, teachers, and others closely related to the learning disable should find this an invaluable resource…Recommended."

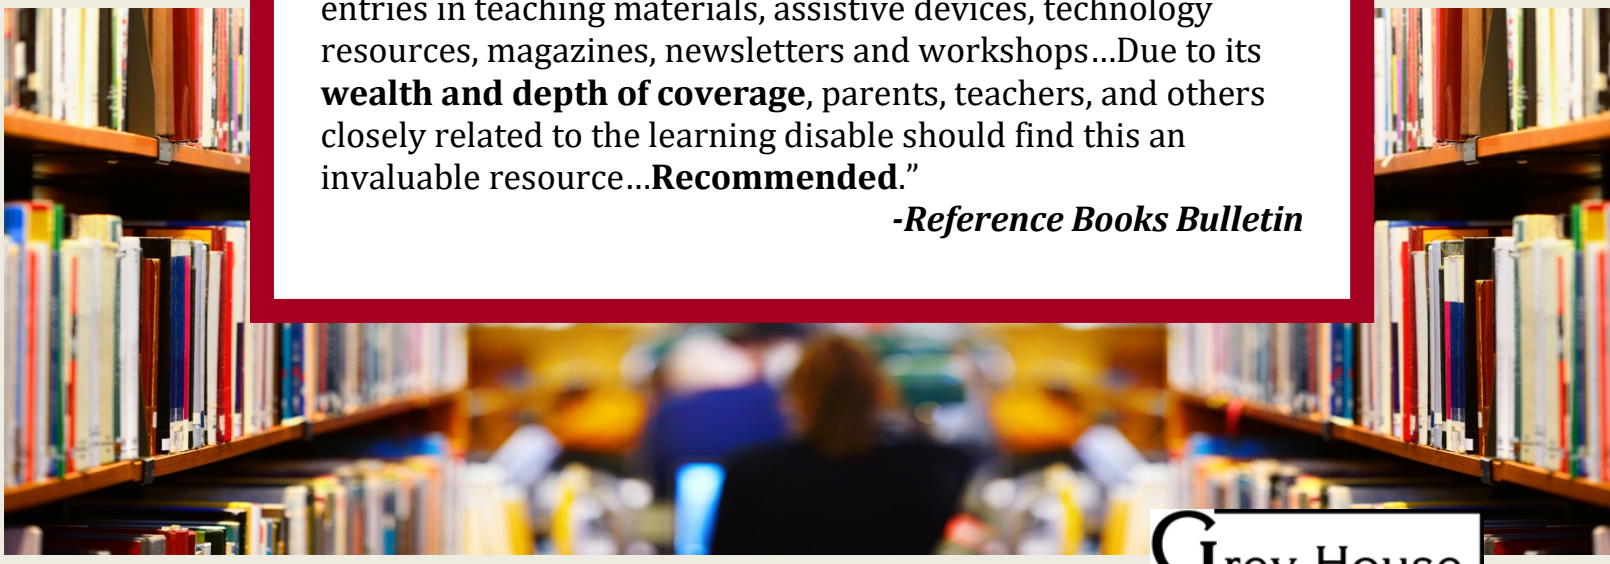
-Reference Books Bulletin



4919 Route 22, PO Box 56 Amenia, NY 12501
(800) 562-2139 FAX (518) 789-0556
www.greyhouse.com books@greyhouse.com

Grey House Publishing